Board Makes Important Decisions

As the Model Cities Program is being phased out, the Executive Board is facing many tough and important questions about the future of the program.

The first project to be continued beyond the Second Action Year is Youth Outreach. The Board extended the project until Feb. 28,1974 at its last meeting. Youth Outreach's contract expires this month so it had to be extended now. All other contracts expire in Sept. and will be considered this week for extension through June, 1974.

By approving the extension, the board allows the project to apply for $75,000 in State LEAA funds. The City will put in $9,975 matching funds and Model Cities $20,886 if the City Council approves the proposal.

The board also approved a new project which would send three gifted Model Neighborhood youth on a scientific exploration program this summer. The project will cost $2,700.

Staff cuts recommended by the Model Cities administration were also approved by the board. Eleven vacant postions will not be filled and eight other staff members will be phased out between June and September. Most of those Cut from the staff already have plans for other jobs or further education.

The board also approved an increase in its stipend from $10 a board meeting to $12.50 a meeting. Meetings were defined as any meeting authorized and approved by the chairman of the Executive Board.

Three New Secretaries At Model Cities

Model Cities has three new secretaries. Deborah Beck, the new receptionist, answers the phone while Edna Jackson sits at desk reading a letter and Bettye Clemmons looks over her shoulder.

Three new employes, two secretaries and a receptionist, have been added to the Model Cities staff recently.

Working in the secretarial pool is Edna Jackson, a graduate of Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Alabama, where she majored in English and secondary education. She has worked as a typist for the Office of Economic Opportunity and as a key punch operator for the Social Security Administration.

Bettye Clemmons has also joined the secretarial staff. She hopes that the work at Model Cities will help her attain her goal of becoming a legal secretary. She has worked for the Washington State Office of Exonomic Opportunity and New Careers in Olympia.

The third new staff member is Deborah Beck, who greets you as you enter the Model Cities office. Formerly of Neenah, Wisconsin, she worked as a typist for the Brown County Department of Social Services and for the Neenah Police Department.

Panthers optimistic, says Huey Newton

NEW YORK—Huey P. Newton said that one year after it "gave up the gun for the ballot," the Black Panther Party is "still very much alive and kicking."

Newton co-founder and minister of defense of the black organization headquartered in Oakland, Calif., said that during the past year the party has "laid down a sound political base" that will establish and maintain it as a national force.

The 31-year-old leader of the group the late J. Edgar Hoover once labeled the "most dangerous threat to the security of the United States," said it has not given up the original "vision of revolution."

But the Panthers have chosen the ballot and community organizing as weapons to achieve that end, he said.

"The rhetoric about armed revolution lingered too long," he said, and did not reflect "the good and positive work we've done for the people."

"We've always had dignity and felt ourselves to be honorable men," he said.

Public Notice

To: Tacoma citizens, organizations, clubs, private and social, fraternal organizations, unions, businesses, churches, civic and community groups.

Reference: Solicitation for donations to defray the projected cost of "Black Expo 73" --Purpose and goals.

From: Mr. Roger O. Laskey, Director "Black Expo 73" and Mr. Ellis M. Cain, Co-director.

The primary goal of our group is sponsor a Black Expo designed to provide economic exposure for business, civic and community groups with the intention of relating economic opportunity to community residents. This would be achieved through presentations and/or exhibits conducted by various local, state, and out of state groups, organizations, and programs.

The secondary goal is to provide, via the Expo, an opportunity for local and state amateur entertainments and artists to perform and exhibit their talents with the possibility of advancing their present amateurism to a professional status, also through this exposure of local talents to the Tacoma community. It would inspire many to strive to make manifest their inherent creative abilities prevalent in the majority of minority people in the Tacoma area.

The Expo would be open to the total community and would, hopefully, serve as a springboard for more progressive ideas and programs to better service the community and also create a feeling of accomplishment in being a part of a successful community production in the people and thereby inspiring others to move toward the idea of "Self-Help."

Self-Help is the theme of the "Black Expo 73". We are asking your full support. Donations to this worthy cause will be highly appreciated.

Vets Coalition Doesn't Want Bonus Extension

Members of the Washington State Veterans Coalition appeared before the House Committee on State Government recently to speak against a bill to extend the $250 cash bonus to ex-servicemen who did not serve in Vietnam.

The coalition did not want to take the money away from veterans, but it wanted to channel the money into programs that would help veterans having trouble adjusting to civilian life. Some of the programs suggested were drug rehabilitation, employment assistance, veterans loans, and assistance for vets with discharges which are not honorable.

The committee agreed in essence with the coalition and decided to table the bill.

A child born in the United States today can expect to live about 22 years longer than his grandparents.

That represents a gain of 44.5 percent since 1900--or nearly half a lifetime--based on life expectancy data recently released by the U.S. Public Health Service and published in Update Magazine. "A child born in 1971 can expect to blow out the candles on his (or her) 71st birthday cake," PHS said.

Louse infestations are occurring more frequently as the result of greater sexual freedom, wider acceptance of communal living, and increased rates of venereal disease. The physician must be able to recognize them and be familiar with their therapy, Dr. A. Bernard Ackerman, dermatologist of the University of Miami School of Medicine, said recently.

Crabs, head and body lice, and scabies are among the parasites being seen more frequently. Treatment with 1 percent gamma benzene hexachloride which is available on prescription as Kwell cream, lotion, or shampoo is "curative in most instances," said Dr. Ackerman.

Oldest and perhaps still most consistently effective treatment of psoriasis is the topical application of cosmetically refined coal tar or its derivatives, according to the American Academy of Dermatology.

"The use of modern coal tar treatments can usually clear psoriasis lesions in a matter of weeks, with overnight applications," the Academy says. This remedy is available in Alphosyl Cream, a product that combines a pharmaceutical extract of coal tar with allantoin, another skin-healing substance. Other medications which must be used under the supervision of a physician include steroids and anti-cancer drugs.

A multi-faceted, individualized approach to the management of constipation, especially in post-operative patients, was urged recently by Dr. Rudi O. Wadle, proctologist, of Union, N.J. Such an approach included re-establishing bowel habits, proper diet, increasing fluid intake, appropriate physical activity, and correct choice of laxative.

In a study in which half the patients were surgical, Dr. Wadle evaluated Laxsil, an anti-gas laxative preparation containing specially-activated simethicone and magnesium hydroxide, and found "excellent therapeutic response," particularly regarding "gaseous distention, bowel evacuation and stool consistency."

Veterans Job Fairs

By Ted Jefferson

During the month of May Veterans Employment will conduct two job fairs in the State of Washington. The National Jobs for Veterans Committee in releasing the list - said additional job fairs are being planned. The job fair has the strong backing of President Nixon. In a recent statement the President urged employers "to make the recruiting and hiring of Vietnam Veterans a top priority". Seattle will conduct a job fair for veterans from 14 thru 16 of May and Port Angeles will conduct theirs on May 17th. Well employers now is the time to hire that veteran you've been telling that you haven't has a vacancy for the past year. And don't forget that disabled veterans or the one that has a discharge of less than honorable. Or are you afraid to take that chance? Don't forget you can be the first to brag about giving that certain veteran his first decent job. Veterans make good employees or for that matter veterans make good employers.

Special Olympic Games To Be Held As At Fort Lewis

Fort Lewis, Wa.--The 1973 Washington State Special Olympic Games will be held at Fort Lewis May 5-6 and June 23-23. The competition is expected to attract nearly 3,000 mentally retarded youngsters and adults, and an equal number of sponsors.

About 500 entries are forecast for the May 5-6 bowling tournament, scheduled at the Bowlarena and Main Post Lanes.

Track and field, gymnastics, swimming and basketball, June 23-24, will bring together more than 2,000 competitors. The track events will be held at Cowan Stadium.

Lieutenant Colonel Harold Van Meter, executive officer of the 9th infantray Division's 2nd Brigade and Fort Lewis coordinator for the program, said that plans call for sports clinics during the June sessions, and a barbeque & dance at the North Fort gymnasium the evening of May 5.

Officials say the purpose of the special games is not merely to further physical development of the retarded, but to build social and psychological confidence. Some 300,000 persons compete around the owrld, making it one of the largest of sports programs.

The special athletic program was established in 1968 by the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Foundation, headed by Eunice Kennedy Shriver, sister of the late President.

On April 28 at 5 pm, ABC "Wide World of Sports" will broadcast films of the 1972 National Special Olympic Games, held in Los Angeles.

Jordan Hits Federal Budget Proposals

Vernon E. Jordan, Jr., executive director of the National Urban League charged this week that the cuts in social services projected in the federal Budget - "will have a disastrous impact on black citizens and on all poor people."

Jordan made his comments in a speech to the Electronic Industries Association Industrial Relations Council, meeting in Indian Wells, California.

Jordan stated: "The proposed dissolution of the Office of Economic Opportunity and its community action programs will break faith with black people and poor people who had started to build community strengths with high hopes. It will end hundreds of constructive local social service programs. It will remove from the institutional fabric of our government the sole agency whose duty it is to be the advocate of the poor and the powerless.

"The other cuts are, if anything, even more damaging to the interests of the poor. A freeze on housing at a time of acute big city housing shortages and skyrocketing prices, higher Medicare payments, deep slashes in aid to education -- all go far beyond the permissible limits of benign neglect and constitute a massive attack on the limited gains made by poor people and by black people. They amount to a refusal to live up to the promises made in past years. The excuse for hanging on in Vietnam for so long was that we had to honor our commitments to the government there. But this budget reflects an abject refusal to honor commitments made to our own citizens."

Jordan attacked the assumption that social programs will be continued on the local levels with revenue sharing funds. He said: "To black Americans, who have historically looked at the federal government to correct the abuses of selfish local interests, that argument looks very much like hiring the wolf to guard the sheep. It is axiomatic in American political life that the lower the level of government, the lower the level of competence and the higher the margin for discrimination against the poor and the powerless. The power that accrued to the central government in the past was due to the failure of localities to be responsive to the needs of all but a handful of their constituents. Thus it has been and thus, I fear, it shall be.

"We are told not to look to Washington for the resolution of the country's ills, but that local communities and individual initiative should be the order of the day. This is a theme that has great appeal for many Americans who yearn to return to the days when social problems seemed less complex and less intractable than they do today.

'But others would argue that without bold, affirmative leadership from the national government, our problems will continue to fester unsolved and worsening.

"The shift in emphasis away from federal programs strikes fear into minorities who are well aware that white people got out from under the terrible Depression due to the bold federal programs of the New and Fair Deals. Now that Washington has finally begun to initiate programs to improve the lives of black and brown citizens, they're told to look to local governments notorious for their historic insensitivity to the poor, and to individual initiative."

Seniors Need Your Help

The Model Cities Senior Citizens Center is always expanding its services and activities, but each new addition requires more help.

The center needs volunteers in many areas: bus drivers, fishing trip organizers, bowling team leaders, food servers, dancers, talent show arrangers, and musicians to name a few. If you can do something, the seniors can probably benefit by your help.

Mrs. Bertie Edwards, center director, said "They can volunteer one day a week, one day a month, or just as much or as little as they desire." The phone number is 572-7776.

Telephone Rates To Increase In Tac.

Telephone rates in Tacoma will increase May 1 if new tariffs filed by Pacific Northwest Bell are approved by the Was hington Utilities and Transportation Commission.

An individual residence line will increase from $7.10 to $7.60 per month; two-party residence service will go from $5.45 to $5.55, and four-party service will change from $4.50 to $4.75 per month.

An individual business line would increase from $19.05 to $20.25 per month. Other increases and changes for various supplementary equipment such as key telephones, private branch exchange service and other services also are scheduled.

All increases are subject to local and federal taxes where applicable.

To Whom It May Concern Re: Mental Health

For your information, it is one of the priority projects of the B.E.E.C. to have Community Health (Mental Health) Programs throughout the State of Washington provide more and relevant services to the Black community.

It is my responsibility and duty to advise Comprehensive Mental Health that it hasn't been responsive enough to the needs of the Black community e.g., employment.

Be advised that there are several areas of your agency that continues to be lily-white staffed e.g., Phoenix.

We have seen fit to formulate a Black Statewide Coalition of effort to effectively deal with the issues of Black Mental Health. And it appears that unless CMH establishes an affirmative Action policy and time-tables we, BEEC will perfect whatever complaints under the circumstances that are necessary to the ends we seek.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By Mrs. G. M. Batie

FISH

Speaking generally, fish is less satisfying than butcher's meat yet people who eat plenty of fish have excellent health and vigour. This recipe can be made with shrimp and lobsters. I tried cod and perch and got good results.

Fish Stew Gumbo

1 lb frozen Cod thawed
1 lb frozen perch thawed
1 1/2 cup chopped potatoes
1 cup chopped onions
1 cup chopped celery
large green pepper chopped
clove garlic
1 can stewed tomatoes
10 oz box frozen okra --salt and pepper to taste

Cut fish in small pieces sprinkle with salt and let stand 30 minutes. Rinse and set aside. To 4 cups of water add onions, celery and green peppers, simmer 30 minutes. Saute okra, add stewed tomatoes cook 5 minutes longer add fish mixed well cook 2 or 3 minutes. Add to vegetable. Season to taste, salt pepper, basil and bay leaf. Serve over cooked rice or noodles. (Saute okra in small amount of oil, butter or shortening).

Fashionable

by Denise

Now that Easter is over were you happy with the way you looked? Were you exhausted from shopping and rushing to store after store trying to fit a size twelve or fourteen into a size five? Was it frustrating not being able to buy that cute little dress, that size shoe you wore last summer? Better take a good look at yourself in the mirror.

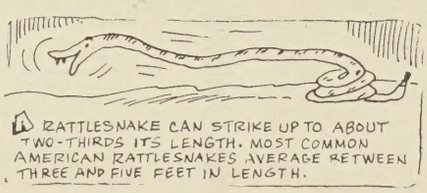
This summer the emphasis is again on the small waistline with draw string ties, tiny belts and suppressed waist fashions. For those who failed to lose weight or because thier admirers prefer them pleasingly plump, there are the Caftons. Some are cut so that one size fits all. This loose flowing garment represents casual or even formal occasions. Why not be original, create a very feminine, soft and flowing gown for that special late evening date?

The crochet elongated sleeveless floor length sweater can be a new item to add to your wardrobe.

The two piece halter top and skirt with bare middle will be in this summer.

For goodness sake do not forget the feet. With the new shoes there is a lot of exposure with the narrow bonded sandals with cut-outs all over in different color combinations, ligher heels and platform soles.

Those little plastic charms that come from penny candy machines are being collected and linked together on colorful thread for neaklaces or bracelets. Try this for a young friend.



A RATTLESNAKE CAN STRIKE UP TO ABOUT TWO-THIRDS ITS LENGTH. MOST COMMON AMERICAN RATTLESNAKES AVERAGE BETWEEN THREE AND FIVE FEET IN LENGTH.

Open Letter To The Church

Re: deaf, dumb and blind

Let's get to the truth of the matter; the Black Church is a disaster. It is completely out of touch with the plight of multitudes of jobless, hungry folk in Tacoma.

For three decades of my existence, the Black church has been the greatest obstacle to physical progress and mental growths of Black and other poor folk.

The Black/White christian community is like a ripening cornfield, infested with masses of weeds growing so close and strong they can not be dug out but will have to be left to do their evil work right through to the harvest time.

At last the age of maturity has been reached. The time of uncertainty and doubt, of self-delusion and idle-fancy and vain imaginings has gone by. Wake up, Brothers and Sisters! The spirit of truth has come. A new heaven and new earth are spread before mankind and every man is required to "prove all things" and "hold fast that which is good"

Recently, there has been rumblings of the Black/White churches responding to the needs of the Black/Poor community of Tacoma. It is too little too late.

Let's get rid of so-called "leaders" and church people in our community, who aren't producing but continue to talk their hypnotic word-game of deceit and deception. Action is what we need.

Apparently, the poor folk here in Tacoma have not come to themselves about their (our) disastrous situation. We are in big trouble e.g. we're without proper and sufficient medical, police protection or food. Another thing, if Black folk ever come to themselves they'd realize how important it is for us to gain control of our destiny. Church, you have a mandate to visit the prisons. And even if you did visit the prisoners, it wouldn't nearly be enough. Attica caused no response from the Black or White church. There are more than 700,000 Black persons behind bars. Is it because you (church) are a boot-licking systems supporter that the atrocious crime and suicide and mortality (death) rate continues to climb amongst Black and other poor folk?

The Black/White christian church is an obvious enemy of the people. It can only lead the foolish and continue to be lead by the fashionminded, money hungry maniacs, who have fooled the community about their so-called talents and abilities. This writer challenges any so-called leader to give up his Mark IV, etc and get down to the business of providing the food, clothen and shelter so many people in this city are in need of. We demand that the churches get down to business - to support day-care and city-county affirmative action policy. The young people in our schools; especially Jr. and Sr. High Schools are without the attention and direction they need. Who cares!?? Unless and until the church gets involved inthe problems of people and stop faking it on Sunday witha "sermon", the complaints of third and fourth generation children will unabately increase. The truth of these words will find the church in or out of the struggle.

Meditation

(Are you a doubting Thomas?)

Thomas, a disciple, one of the twelve original Apostles chosen by Christ did not believe when told that Christ had again been among his friends. It is written that Thomas would not believe until he could see with his own eyes and touch with his own hands where the spear had pierced Christ's side and where the nails had been driven through his hands.

After eight days, Thomas with the other deciples were gathered in a room with all door closed, when Christ appeared saying, "Peace be to you," He said to Thomas "see my hands where the nails were, put your hand in my side," After Thomas had seen, he believed. Christ said to him "because you have seen you believe, but many will not see but believe." Let us meditate for a moment.

Looking upon this wonderful and beautiful world we must truthfully feel there is someone greater than we mere mortals - The Creator God and His Son Jesus Christ, or are we as Thomas?

Pease Be To All Of You.

Spring

by Lady Diane

Yes Spring is here once again and everything is beautiful. The flowers are in full bloom and people are working in their flower gardens and making their lawns beautiful.

Spring is also the time for Spring cleaning, which I have plenty of work to do. Every year about this time I get spring fever, and began to get new ideals about decorating the living room or kitchen or some other part of the house.

Spring is also the time for wedding gowns and shoes and all things that it takes for a wedding.

Spring is also the time to buy new clothes and change your hairstyle.

So enjoy the lovely spring weather because I'm going to.

It takes both halves...

The modern telephone communications equipment we supplied to the U.S. National Bank in Portland is only half of a total communications system.

It takes more than just equipment to keep the bank in touch with its 123 statewide branch offices.

That's why Pacific Northwest Bell Communications Consultants designed a Rush Alert System that helps keep the bank and all its offices ahead of bad checks and fraudulent credit cards. The new system works ten times faster than the old.

Phone company people also helped design a special IN-WATS credit card authorization center. And phone company people designed an Alarm Reporting Telephone System which is connected to the bank's U-Bank machines.

Then Pacific Northwest Bell people trained bank people in the use of the new systems.

We'll continue to provide training, redesign their communications system as their requirements change, and provide repair service to the U.S. National Bank. And we'll do all this at no extra charge. We'll do it for your business, too.

Equipment is one half of a Total Communications system. But you need both halves. We're the company that supplies both–the equipment and the people.

Call on us. The Total Communications people.

You know you're a success in this country when newspapers start quoting you on subjects you know nothing about.

Natural Gas gives you more heat for your money ...and then some!

Clean-burning, natural gas is one of the most efficient forms of energy for home heating. So when you use it, you get more heat for your dollar and help conserve our country's energy resources. If you live on Main Street, that is, a street with a gas main, you can either purchase your own natural gas conversion unit or lease one on our rental plan which costs just $2.35 per month. Do it before June 30th, and an energy-saving Honeywell day-and-night clock-thermostat will be installed in your home.

A Tradition of Quality

DISTILLED, BLENDED & BOTTLED EXCLUSIVELY BY THE CHRISTIAN BROTHERS, REEDLEY, CALIFORNIA

Chances are, you never heard of the WHIRLIGIG and the WHIMMY DIDDLE. They are, however, excellent examples of our clever Colonial forebears' spinning ways with toys. The WHIRLIGIG was a toy which spun around when manipulated in a "surprising" way. The WHIMMY DIDDLE, looking little more than a notch stick with a propeller on top, could be set a-spinning by someone who rubbed it with a special "wand." One good turn deserves another. Give it a whirl.
